Every verb in Modern Standard Arabic can be grouped with other verbs sharing identical patterns of conjugation. These patterns (groups) are presented as 120 conjugation tables which show how to conjugate any verb in all persons, tenses, and moods. Each form is followed by its transcription (pronunciation) to make the tables user-friendly for learners at all levels. An index lists nearly 4,000 of Arabic's most common verbs grouped by table. This book can be used on its own, but also acts as an invaluable companion to the Lingualism Arabic Learner's Dictionary, the verb entries in which contain references to the conjugation tables. Note: This edition uses actual, common verbs in each table to represent conjugation patterns that apply to other verbs, as well.

A good resource, but...

By Linguist2be

I think this book has a lot of good info, but it also lacks sufficient info on HOW to use it.

There is some explanation, but not nearly enough.

I feel that because the author has laid the info out in a certain way that he understands, he assumes it will make perfect sense to everyone else.

If you're going to use this book, I would suggest you have at least an intermediate level of familiarity with Arabic, or have easy access to a native Arabic speaker who can help.
