Steve Jobs, the celebrity founder of Apple, was known for his vision, creativity and passion; less known is what drove his life and this book on Steve Jobs' biography focuses upon his spirituality from Law of Attraction's perspective.

The essence of Law of Attraction is: "like attracts like". It was mentioned by Napoleon Hill, had become the basis of the Abraham teachings with Ester and Jerry Hicks and made popular by Rhonda Byrne with "The Secret".

Cristina has had an interest in spirituality from an early age and has formed her own perspective from her various studies. Steve Jobs' life as well as a few aspects of her own life provides a though provoking book written with great deal of insight and sensitivity, exemplifying Law of Attraction at work in our lives and the value each life offers, no matter "the settings".

Very Inspiring and Uplifting

By Robert A. Benson

This book has the heart of a biography--about Steve Jobs, the soul of a autobiography--about the author, as well as the physique of an inspirational text--about what is possible in the lives of all that possess a vision with the dedication to achieve their goals, and pursue their heart's desires.

While the Law of Attraction has obtained the notoriety of a newly discovered concept, it is a fundamental law that is said to go back as far as creation itself. The self-help undertone of "Steve Jobs and I: Law of Attraction's Perspective," is delivered in a unique and engaging way uncommon for books on this spiritual law. This book illustrates clearly for the reader how powerful focus and intent can change lives, no matter what situation a person is faced with.

While reading "Steve Jobs and I," the reader cannot help but find a whole new level of appreciation for Steve Jobs as a spiritual man. Like the author, Jobs worked and excelled in a technical;y-based industrial sector, while holding strong spiritual principles. This book does a magnificent job at balancing out the various aspects that make up the moral fabric of the text.

Overall, "Steve Jobs and I: Law of Attraction's Perspective," is written with passion, inspiration, and an undeniable respect and admiration for the life and accomplishments of Mr. Jobs. Adversely, this book is also a testament to the resilience and brilliance of the author.

Brings Steve Jobs to Life in a subtly fresh new way!!

By Julie Veitch

What a Brilliant Title!!!! Reading this from start to finish is a journey of drawing direct and specific parallels between Steve Jobs and I. You know when you read a book and you can't put your highlighter down because almost every thing you read resonates in a deep place of knowing?

This book offers to me a greater tangible understanding of defining who I really am, illustrating so well how my creativity, thoughts and ideas merge with the whole as I directly contribute to the collective motion forward in this vast universe.

It depicts so beautifully the role that meditation plays, where quieting the mind allows more subtle things to be perceived by Steve Jobs and I. It inspires my spiritual thinking about my relationship with my non-physical using such vivid imagery.

This book connects me to the Author Cristina Corban, to Steve Jobs, to the vision inside of me that is awaiting to be awakened and manifested and most importantly, to All that IS. It leaves me knowing on a deeper level that both Steve Jobs and I are more than meets the eye.

My favorite quote from this book is:

"Believing in himself and in people and expecting to have success gives birth to a vibration so nonresistant that it is in deep accord with Source, feels good and brings about the success which is our birthright"
